Stockton High School 1956

All of us have shared many lively hours at Stockton High School. Each building brings back memories.

Remember the GYMNASIUM when its seams narrowly escaped bursting as a loud cheer arose from the excited rooters . . . the CAFETERIA building where we enjoyed good food and friendly conversation . . . the NORTH building, the home of the "Frosh" . . . the noisy whirr of machinery from the SHOPS . . . the packed bleachers at the football games . . . the hurried activity around the offices in the MAIN building . . . and how many times an enthusiastic audience filled the AUDITORIUM to the brim, each assembly ending with our voices joined in our "Alma Mater."

STOCKTON

CALIFORNIA

Foreword

Did you ever stop to think that some day you will recall 1956 as "the good old days when you were at Stockton High School?" Your children and grandchildren will smile patiently as you reminisce how you "lived it up" at the Funfest, or marched in the band. They'll find it hard to believe you yelled your lungs out at a Tarzan game, that you were a whiz in geometry, or that you were quite the hepcat in your many petticoated skirt whirling gaily as you and your denim-clad partner "bopped" to a "rock and roll" tune.

Then is one of the many times you'll bring out your Blue and White to show them, and to remind you, of the traditions, the work, and the fun you had at Stockton High School, 1956.

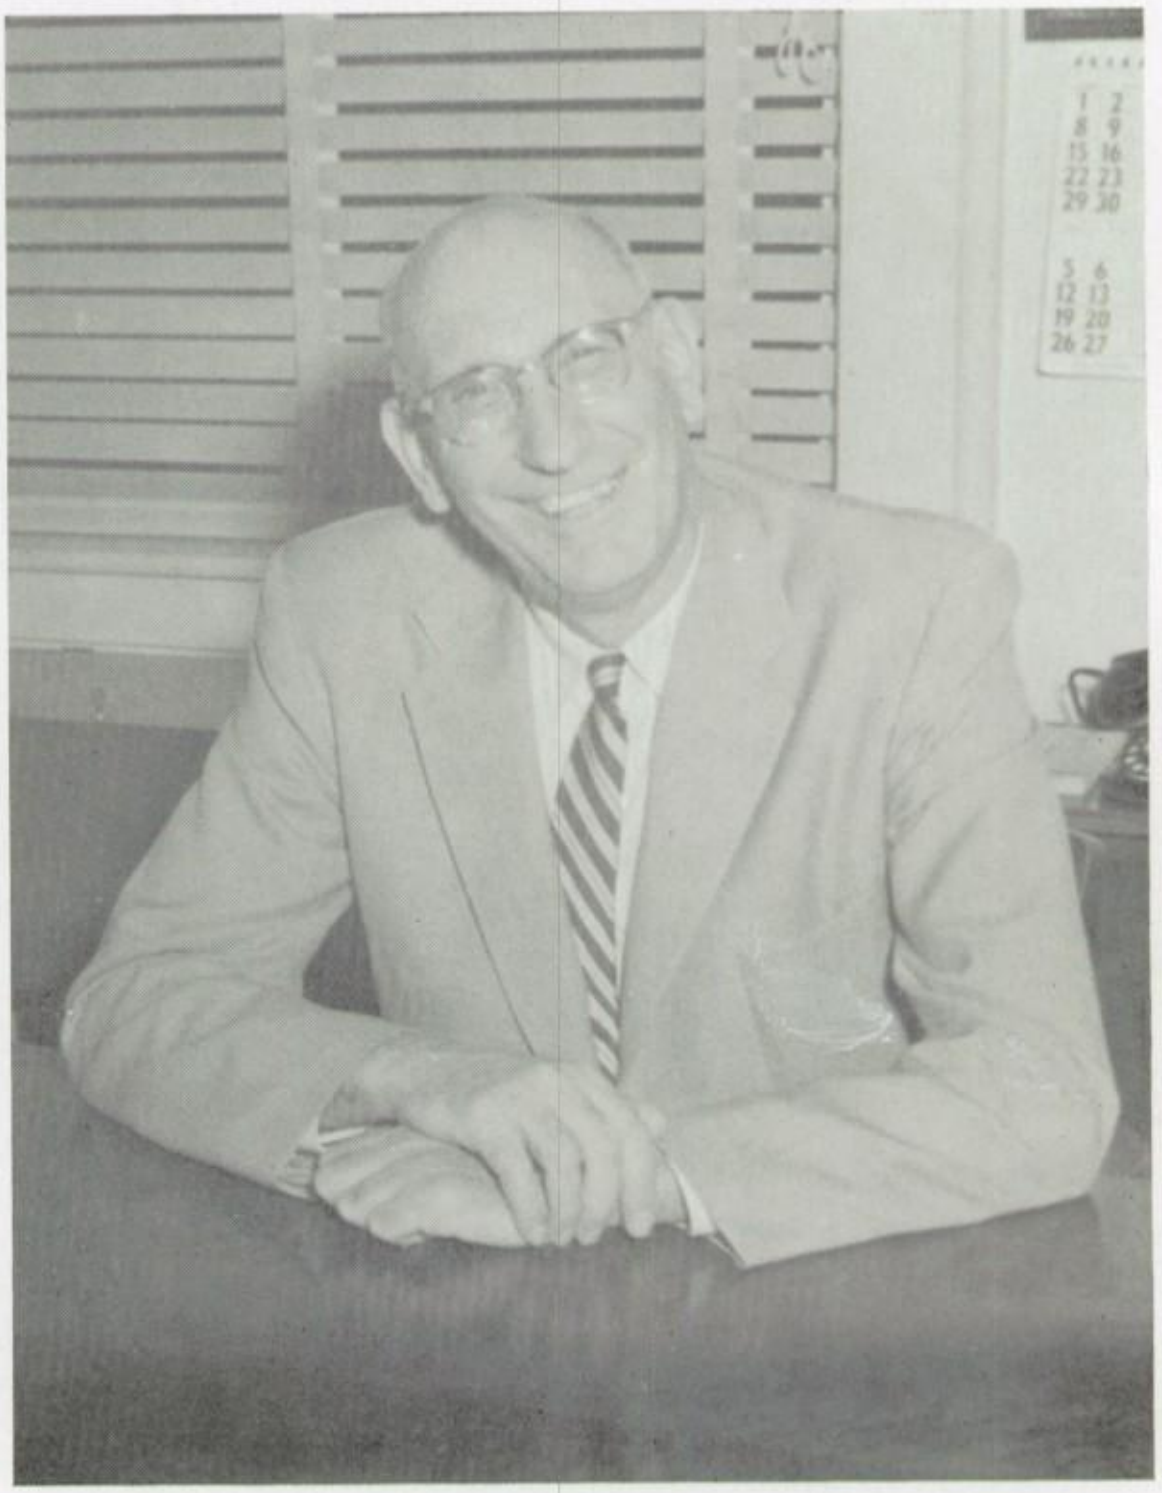
Dedication

Mr. Young presides at a faculty meeting.

S.H.S. was awarded the George Washington Honor Medal from the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, "For outstanding achievement in bringing about a better understanding of the American Way of Life."

Coach Young and his Faculty Five.



WESLEY G. YOUNG

In 1924, Wesley G. Young came to Stockton High School as a faculty member in the social science department. Four years later he was appointed department head. This year, 1956, completes his tenth year as Principal of our school.

Equipped with the experience that only years of unselfish service can build, he has guided Stockton High School policies and traditions into the democratic pattern we all know and respect. His good-humored counsel, his office door always open to all who would see him, his familiar greetings as he strides about the campus, his obvious pride in S.H.S. — all these little things we'll remember as we dust the cobwebs of time from our memories. But most of all we'll remember Mr. Young as our friend, "Mr. Stockton High."

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The members of our Board of Education represent the city of Stockton. Their policies and decisions are made to benefit each student.

Row 1: John Zuckerman, Mrs. Ennis C. Woodruff, President; Mrs. Henry M. Brandstad.
Row 2: Alex J. McRae, Richard Parsons, resigned.

Row 2: Mrs. Linnea Carlson, Mrs. Olive Azevedo, Mrs. Thilma Guthmiller, Mrs. Pauline Fields, Mrs. Mary Wilson, Mrs. Margaret Culbertson.

MAINTENANCE STAFF

Our clean campus and buildings are cared for by this staff. They work "round the clock" so that we may be proud of our school.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Our cafeteria is very capably managed by Mrs. Margaret Culbertson. The group of ladies under her direction work long hours preparing the nourishing and tasty food served to the students and teachers.

Serious Moments

In our daily search for knowledge

Our hands have gained skills . . . .

Our minds have sought new ideas . . . .

IN MEMORY OF

SAUNDRA HARRISON

who passed away January 21, 1956

On this Foundation . . .

Three years ago, under the direction of Dr. Katherine Bishop, a consultant from Walnut Creek, an extensive program was started to improve reading ability. In the beginning only the seventh grade classes were used, but it has expanded to include grades seven through ten.

A student is placed in a class according to reading ability, and the materials used are geared to the various levels. Teachers are given special "in-service" training to further coordinate the work.

This year, several tenth grade classes received a "Pilot" course to increase reading speed and comprehension. (This is the same course for which many progressive business executives are paying $300 to enable them to better handle the ever-increasing day-to-day paperwork.)

Because of the success of our reading program, similar work is underway in mathematics, spelling, and handwriting.

We Shall Build Our Future

At Stockton High every student takes at least six courses. Three of these are required by state law—English, Social Studies, and Physical Education. With the assistance of a counselor, he may choose the others from a wide selection of courses, keeping in mind his future plans.

Today's schools are organized to benefit every student.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Tying the Mid-4 Football Championship in the '55 season, the Tarzans made their first big win by taking Franklin High. However, Edison High didn't prove to be such a pushover and S.H.S. suffered a big defeat. But just in the nick of time Franklin came through and saved the day tying the Mid-4 when she topped Edison.
